The Cathedral parish acknowledges the Whadjuk people of the Noongar nation, the Traditional Owners who have walked upon and cared for this land for thousands of years. We acknowledge the continued deep spiritual attachment and relationship of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples to this country and commit ourselves to the ongoing journey of reconciliation

We strive to be an inspiring Catholic community in the heart of our city, welcoming everyone and providing sanctuary for the marginalised, the sorrowful and the seeker of Jesus' love

Dean's bit

Today the Archbishop launches the Diocesan Assembly which will play a significant role in the synodal journey of the church in Perth. The Archbishop has explained that the assembly will 'consider the re-establishment of a Diocesan Pastoral Council'. The Second Vatican Council recommended that each diocese have pastoral council and one did operate in Perth under Archbishop Goody and Archbishop Foley. The Archbishop explains, 'Our recent Plenary Council has called for the establishment or re-establishment of such Councils in every diocese, and I believe it is appropriate for us to decide whether or not the time is now right to make such a move. It is also important to clarify why such a body might be necessary and how it should operate. The Church's law and traditions do give some indications and establish some parameters. Within these, however, we have ample scope for shaping such a body according to our local needs. At the same time, in response to the call of Pope Francis for a more synodal Church, we might ask ourselves what a Diocesan Pastoral Council might look like if it is a truly synodal body. These are the questions I will ask the Diocesan Assembly to consider.' Let us pray for the assembly and ask the Spirit to help us listen to what he is saying to our church.

OUR NEW ICONS

Fr Richard Charwood, a Ukrainian Catholic priest, who is creating our icons has written a short explanation of the icons which are in our Blessed Sacrament Chapel:
The three (of seven) icons that have been installed in the Cathedral make up a traditional iconic representation known as the Deisis. This Greek word means "prayer" or "intercession." The Mother of God and John the Baptist, also known as the Precursor, stand either side of Christ with hands in the attitude of supplication towards the Risen Lord. They were the first witnesses of the manifestation of the divinity of Christ and stand either side of Him to act as intermediaries; praying for the salvation of our souls and for the mercy of God.
Traditionally, Christ would be seated in majesty, holding a book in one hand, with the other hand raised in blessing. The space did not allow for this, so Christ is depicted as the risen One; His wounded hands raised in prayer for us all.
The Greek letters either side of Christ are an abbreviation of "Jesus Christ." The Greek letters beside Mary are an abbreviation of "Mother of God." The Greek letters to the right of John the Baptist say "The Precursor."
